HUERTA NEAR GIVING UP OFFICE

To Resign When Mexican Congress Meets, is Report—Says Blunt Talk from U. S.

HALE AND CARRANZA ARE TO CONFER AGAIN TODAY

Rebels Capture Calican; March in Demonstration for Gen. Carranza

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14.—The report that General Huerta has expressed his willingness to resign when congress meets, and that Charge D'Affaires O'Shaughnessy said there must be no meeting of congress unless a guarantee is given against legislation that America would disapprove, has not been confirmed today, but is generally believed. There seems to be no doubt that Huerta has changed his attitude toward America from defiance to that of appeal. He is desperately trying to stave off recognition of the belligerency of the Carranzists.

CRUISER CHESTER AT VERA CRUZ INDICATES CRISIS NEAR

VERA CRUZ, Nov. 14.—The scout cruiser Chester arrived here today. It is supposed the Chester was sent to take Envoy John Lind home when his mission in Mexico is concluded. The cruiser's arrival at this time is interpreted here as indicative of some tangible development, either that Huerta is ready to capitulate or that a final break with him is very near.

HALE AWAITS ADVICES BEFORE CONFERENCE

NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 14.—William Bayard Hale is waiting instructions here from Washington before proceeding with his negotiations with General Carranza. Another conference was scheduled for this afternoon, at which it is expected a definite statement of the American policy will be made. Hale and Carranza are fairly silent regarding their other conferences.

The rebels have captured Culiacan, the capital of the state of Sinaloa, according to messages received here. Rebel sympathizers are marching through the streets in a hilarious demonstration, shouting "Viva Carranza."

Carranza and Hale are expected to confer again this afternoon.

TRAIN WRECK WAS FATAL TO TWENTY

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 14.—The number of dead passengers, killed in the Georgia Central train wreck yesterday when the train went through a trestle near here, reached twenty today. Seventeen corpses have been removed from the debris and three of those injured died during the night. One hundred and sixty-two persons were injured and many of these may die.

Appalling Accident
CLAYTON, Ala., Nov. 14.—Fifteen persons were known to have been killed and 200 injured, many seriously, and at least six fatally hurt near here yesterday, when a Central of Georgia excursion train was wrecked. The authorities last night said several more bodies may be buried in the debris and the death list may reach a score.

The train which was en route from Ozark to Eufaula, where the county fair was to open yesterday, was traveling at a high rate of speed when the three rear coaches were whipped off the track on a curve and plumed down a forty-foot embankment. The heavily laden wooden coaches were torn to bits. Hardly a passenger escaped unscathed.

Clayton, a brother of Congressman Clayton, was badly injured. Nearly all the dead and injured were white.

Supreme Courts' Dignity Extends Even to Clothes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Dressed in a light suit of striking design, a supreme court reporter strolled into the inclosure—the sanctum sanctorum—to which only lawyers, attaches and newspapermen are admitted. He sat down at a press table. A firm hand grasped his shoulder. A whisper in his ear informed him that he was transgressing a tradition of the court. "And how, pray?" quoth the surprised scribe, forgetting for a moment that he ought not to argue.

"Why, only dark clothes are allowed up front here," he was informed. And he had to take a seat on a rear bench.

181 OF THESE ACCOUNTED FOR BY 11 KNOWN WRECKS

60 Corpses Washed Up on Shores of Huron—Second Storm Brews

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14.—Estimates of the victims of the lake storms have reached 215. One hundred and eighty-one have been accounted for in eleven wrecks. Many other wrecks are suspected, as several big freighters are still missing. The sinking of the tug Lafayette in Lake Superior with a crew of twelve has been confirmed.

Sixty corpses have been recovered along the southern shores of Lake Huron. The bodies will be held here awaiting shipment to relatives if claimed.

Lake men are indignant at the revenue officials, who ordered the cutter Lorraine from Port Huron, leaving a still unidentified wreck stranded near there, unguarded and without lights. They claim the revenue cutters have not aided a single distressed ship.

ANOTHER GALE RISING ON LAKE SUPERIOR

SUPERIOR, Nov. 14.—Another gale is rising on Lake Superior, and shipping is seeking shelter. The freighter Major sank off White Fish Point, and the crew of eighteen was rescued with difficulty.

Argus Crew Washed Ashore

MC'COMBS SAYS HE WILL NOT ACCEPT ANY PUBLIC OFFICE

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Wm. McCombs, chairman of the National Democratic committee, arrived today from Europe with his bride, formerly Miss Dorothy Williams. He refused to discuss the reports that are again connecting him with the French ambassadorship.

Such is the opinion of the most distinguished surgeons here who have been called in consultation over the boy, now in his tenth year. They say he suffers from rapid tuberculosis of the bones. Of course no one dare whisper it in St. Petersburg, but the Czar knows his son is in an extremely precarious condition. He cannot walk, and a muscular orderly carries him when he appears in public.

OREGON MURDERER HANGED

CO. OFFICIALS INDICTED

Chas. A. Elder and Ten Others Under Charge of Using Mails Fraudulently

EARL ELDER AND FRANCIS GATES UNDER ARREST

Other Indicted Men Being Sought—20,000 People Hold Stock in Company

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Ex-President Charles A. Elder and ten other former officials of the Los Angeles Investment Company were today indicted by a federal grand jury, charged with conspiracy to use the U. S. mails to defraud.

The other officials of the company indicted are W. D. Deebie, secretary; George Derby, treasurer; Charles Cassatt Davis, Harry Rodgers and Chas. Bagley, first, second and third vice-presidents; Frank Mowder, auditor; Ernest Ingold, secretary to the president; A. S. Thompson, associate counsel; Earl Elder, sales manager, and Francis Gates, editor of the company's publications. Mowder and Earl Elder were the first to be arrested, and officers of the law are searching for the others.

The indictment is a blanket affair and followed charges that the company sent fraudulent reports of their financial standing through the mails. The men indicted recently resigned from their offices.

Post Office Inspector Webster has seized the books exhibited before the jury in connection with the testimony of Accountant Palethorpe, who recently audited the books of the Los Angeles Investment Company, which has 20,000 stockholders, the majority in moderate circumstances, who bought stock on the installment plan. Hundreds of persons are buying homes of the company on easy terms. Two stockholders recently brought suit, seeking a receivership for the company's affairs.

COL. GOETHALS NOT TO RETIRE AS HAS BEEN REPORTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama Canal, is not to retire, as has been reported recently. On the contrary he is on terms of the closest friendship with President Wilson and Secretary Garrison. This was made plain yesterday by President Wilson himself.

The President had expected to visit the canal zone last summer before the water was let into the ditch but developments in Washington prevented. He sees no occasion for a visit now until January, 1915, when the ceremony of opening the canal is planned.

SWITZERLAND WOULD BUY MORGAN'S SWISS WATCHES

GENEVA, Nov. 14.—A local syndicate today is raising a fund of half a million dollars in the hope that it will tempt the family of the late J. Pierpont Morgan to part with a superb collection of old Swiss watches which the American financier purchased in 1910. The watches, most of which were made in Geneva, were being exhibited at Neuchatel where they caught Morgan's fancy. There were other connoisseurs who wanted the collection but he quickly outbid all rivals, and took the watches back to America with him. It is the purpose of the syndicate, if successful, to present the collection to the National Museum of Switzerland.

TOM BURNS, JOCKEY, BELIEVED VICTIM OF L ROAD TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A man, believed to be Jockey Tommy Burns, either jumped or fell in front of an elevated train in Brooklyn today and was killed. In his pockets was a contract to ride in races at Berlin, $500 in American money, considerable German currency and a pass book on the Deutsche Bank. The police are investigating. Burns had a wife and two children.

WILL REMAIN WITH THE SAME FRUIT EXCHANGE

Hot Fight in Santiago Orange Growers Association Results in Change of Directors

ORANGE, Nov. 14.—There was a hot fight to enliven the annual meeting of the Santiago Orange Growers' Association yesterday. For days and weeks a fraction of growers opposed to the board of directors had been gathering strength, and it came to the meeting with votes. The election resulted in electing a board of directors in thorough accord with the Orange County Fruit Exchange, formerly the Sunset Fruit Exchange. The big point at issue in yesterday's fight was on harmony and lack of harmony between the Santiago association and the exchange. A. H. Stutsman of Tustin, director of the association, advocated leaving the exchange and going into the Semi-Tropic, which handles oranges north of the river, and he attacked the work of D. Eymann Huff, the Exchange secretary. The election leaves no question as to the affiliation of the association. It will remain with the Orange County Fruit Exchange.

The board elected and the votes received are: D. E. Campbell, 269; C. P. Boyer, 164; D. C. Drake, 153; J. W. Birch, 135; J. A. Maag, 128. Of these Campbell, Drake, and Maag belonged to the old board. The vote of others was: A. P. Jacobson, 176; D. P. Crawford, 125; A. N. Saxton, 124; V. V. Tubbs, 117; A. H. Stutsman, 107; John Veeh, 87; Ed. Dierker, 14. Crawford, Tubbs, Saxton and Stutsman were on the old board.

The meeting of the orange growers was at Campbell's Opera House. One of the questions put by a grower was from G. W. Birch, who declared that his oranges were picked within a day of the oranges picked by D. P. Crawford, a director, yet Crawford's oranges were in the May pool, where the price was higher than for the month in which Birch's oranges were included.

Reporting the debate the Orange News said:

Mr. Stutsman took up the defense of the old board by making a spirited attack on Mr. Huff, whom he declared was responsible for red ink on the July pool, and whom he accused of neglecting to transmit information to the association which should have been transmitted. He advocated joining the Semi-Tropic Exchange, where, he said, the association could have saved itself $1,000 in the past season. He declared that Mr. Huff was of small value to the association and not worth the salary paid him. He complained that the association paid the greater part of the expense of the Exchange.

"Mr. Huff may be doing the best he can," said the speaker, "but the results are not what the growers of this association want. They are not getting a fair deal. Mr. Huff never visits our board; he does not consult Mr. Smart when cars are to be diverted from one market to another; he does not give our association the information to which it is entitled."

D. C. Drake demurred to Mr. Stutsman's statement that the association was paying more than its proper proportion of the expense of the district exchange. He pointed out that the Santiago growers pay the same rate per box shipped as every other association in the exchange.

In reply to the charges made, Mr. Huff declared that the statements would not have been made had his critic been familiar with the facts. He denied Mr. Stutsman's assertion that he was a director in Tustin Hills Association, saying that, though he had been elected, he had refused to serve. Taking up the criticism of the results he had secured, he said that four years ago, when he took charge, the Sunset had consisted of two associations, the Santiago and the Hewes, and that it controlled but 40 per cent of the fruit in this district. In four years he had built it up to seven associations, controlling 75 per cent of the fruit. He said that the exchange charge of 6005 per box was the lowest exchange rate in the district. He had advised Secretary Smart repeatedly to move all grower fruit in the May and June pools to the California Exchange board and declared that he had advised Secretary Smart repeatedly to move all grower fruit in the May and June pools to the California Exchange board and declared that he had advised Secretary Smart repeatedly to move all grower fruit in the May and June pools to the California Exchange board.

In regard to the charge that he was neglecting the interests of the Santiago, he challenged his critics to send a committee from the district to the California Exchange board and investigate for themselves, whether or not the interests of their association had ever been slighted.

He charged that his advice that an association be organized at Olive was ignored and that as a result an independent company built a house there and took business that might have come to the Exchange. He charged that Mr. Smart had objected to him advising Santiago growers, saying that it made trouble for the secretary of the association.

Mr. Huff read a letter from Mr. Woodford, a former manager of the California Exchange, in which the latter congratulated him on the showing of the past year and stated that the best method of organizing is with numerous associations through the district exchange.

The speaker denied that information was not given to all associations equally. He said he followed all cars closely and kept the association managers informed.

The meeting adjourned at noon until 1:30 when the election was held. Huff declared emphatically that the Santiago association was at fault in not pooling its oranges according to size as well as grades. He said that oranges of off and unpopular sizes are included in the best sizes, so that a man with oranges of good size gets no more than the man with poor sizes. He said all other associations pool their oranges according to both sizes and grades.

2500 S. P. MEN GONE ON STRIKE

Big Walk-Out Involves Atlantic Division—Company Ignored Men's Demands

PRESIDENT WILSON IS ASKED TO INTERVENE

Cotton and Sugar Crops Bound to Suffer from Traffic Tie-Up—Rioting Begins

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Senators Baughman and Thornton appealed to the president to take immediate action in settling the Southern Pacific railroad strike in the South, saying that Texas and Louisiana industries were threatened with ruin. The president assured them the labor department would do everything possible to end the fight.

2500 MEN OUT—FEARED STRIKE WILL SOON SPREAD

HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 14.—Railroad men predicted that the strike on the Atlantic division of the Southern Pacific of 2500 trainmen will spread rapidly unless an agreement is quickly reached. Minor disorders are already reported at New Orleans. They predict that the Houston-Texas Central will be the next line to be tied up, with the coast line ultimately involved. The railroad company is planning to run the trains with its office employees.

The union men have said they will not accept mediation now since the railroad company has refused it. They declared that the company must now negotiate with the United Brotherhood of Trainmen instead of with the organizations individually. They also say the striking conductors are drawing a strike salary of fifty dollars monthly from the strike benefit fund, and the firemen and switchmen are drawing forty dollars from the same source.

Disturbances at New Orleans
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—Following last night's walkout of train and engine men on the Atlantic division of the Southern Pacific the first attempt made today to move a train brought a shower of bricks and stones from a crowd of strike sympathizers at the railroad yards. One person was hurt. The train that pulled out was bound for Texas.

The commercial associations here and in Texas are appealing to President Wilson to intervene, as the strike is tying up the movement of the cotton and sugar crops.

Twenty-five hundred men quit last night. Many trains have been annulled.

RAILROAD COMPANY IGNORED MEN'S REQUESTS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—Twenty-five hundred Southern Pacific firemen, conductors and trainmen employed on the division between El Paso and New Orleans, went on strike at 7 o'clock last evening because an ultimatum demanding joint adjustment of their grievances was not replied to by the railroad. One thousand men went out in New Orleans and vicinity. At Houston many crews deserted their switch engines in the yards.

ZELAYA WAS REFUSED AUDIENCE WITH BRYAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Jose Santos Zelaya, former dictator of Nicaragua, now in New York, was yesterday denied an audience at the department of state. The former dictator sent an emissary to Secretary Bryan to ask for an appointment but did not communicate the nature of his business. Mr. Bryan declined to see him.

UNIQUE BIRTHDAY PARTY

SOUTH PASADENA, Nov. 14.—Five hundred and fourteen years was the total of the ages of six persons who sat down at a dinner yesterday to celebrate the eighty-eighth birthday of Charles H. Thompson, 267 Pasadena avenue. Mr. Thompson's wife, who is 87 year old, sat beside her husband. An unusual feature was the fact that all of the guests had attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson. They were married 65 years ago next April, and preparations have been made for a celebration of the anniversary.

DEVICE TO SAVE TRAINS FROM COLLISION

Invention of Ohioan Said to be Most Important Signal Device in Existence

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 13.—Seven years ago Carl Buhl, then 19 years of age, witnessed a railroad wreck. An engineer of a switch engine had asked a tower man whether a certain passenger train had passed that point. He was informed that it had, and pulled his engine onto the track. A few minutes later the engineer was dead, a passenger train was wrecked and several other lives were lost in the collision. The tower man had made a mistake.

Today Carl Buhl, electrician and inventor, has perfected what he believes to be the one complete, most important railroad signaling and safety device in existence. His invention, he claims, flashes danger signals before the engineer's eyes right in the engine cab—hence fog or other bad weather conditions will not interfere with the engineer getting all signals.

An ingenious contact device is the key to the invention. In explaining his device Buhl shows a miniature locomotive on a miniature track. A white light burns in the engineer's cab as long as the track is clear for three "blocks" ahead. Another train on the track within that distance causes a contact which shows a green light in the cab. Within three blocks of any break in the rails the contact flashes a red light in the cab. If for some reason the lights should not work, a bell rings automatically.

Perhaps the most valuable part of the invention is seen when the engineer dies or falls unconscious at his post. If such is the case, and the red or green light shows, the brakes are automatically thrown on when the train enters the last block Buhl has worked for seven years on the invention and is seeking recognition from the railroads. He is considering placing his invention before members of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

CHURCH NOTICES

Presbyterian Church
The regular church services will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sunday, led by the pastor Sunday morning and evening. Christian Endeavor, 8:30 o'clock.

Advent Christian Church
Sunday school, 10 a. m.; preaching, 11 a. m., subject, "Holy Spirit Before Pentecost." Loyal Workers' hour, 6:30 p. m.; preaching, 7:30 p. m., "Holy Spirit at Pentecost."

Last Sunday's Services
The two young men sent out by Occidental College to speak at the Presbyterian church in Tustin last Sunday got very close to the hearts of the people by their straightforward testimony. They disclaimed all ideas of being preachers, but the simple statement of their high ideals as they look out on life made the talks very interesting. Their youthfulness, their well-chosen subjects, each a poem, and their good handling of the subjects made a fine combination and every one enjoyed the service.

Meat Market Addition
The new additions to the Tustin meat market make things look more lively on that side of Main street, and they seem to attract a good patronage. Under the new name, "Triangle Cash Market," they are doing some up-to-date advertising.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

Literature Section
The Tustin Literature Section will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. C. E. Ut.

Tustin Y's to Meet
The Y meeting will be held tonight at the Presbyterian manse. All the members are urged to attend.

C. E. Executive Meeting
The Christian Endeavor Executive Committee held a meeting at the home of Miss Margaret Tingley Tuesday evening. The business for the meeting was the organization of a mission study class. It was decided to organize the class and a committee was appointed to select the study books. Plans regarding Christian Endeavor week which is to be held in Los Angeles in February, were discussed.

It was planned to organize an intermediate society. The C. E. already ready to have a thriving Junior League. The meetings are held every Thursday afternoon at the church and are led by Miss Lolo Robinson.

W. C. T. U.
The Tustin W. C. T. U. held a meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. E. W. Blew at the Presbyterian manse. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Shatto, Mrs. Sarah Brower took the chair. There were many expressions of regret that Mrs. Shatto could not attend the meeting on account of ill health and many hopes also that she will soon be entirely recovered.

There was a good attendance and the meeting opened with Scripture reading followed by sentence prayers. All joined heartily in singing several temperance songs, followed by the roll call and reading of minutes.

The convention to be held in Los Angeles on the 19th and 20th of this month was discussed, and a vote was taken as to who should go as delegate after a motion was made and carried to send a delegate. Mrs. Sarah Brown was unanimously elected to go as delegate and Mrs. Rawlings as alternate. The delegate is to be sent by the union, having her railroad fare paid.

The next meeting, according to the W. C. T. U. calendar, should be held in the evening with a program. It was decided to omit this meeting and the next meeting on December 11th will be held with Mrs. P. H. Ebel.

A letter to the union was read recommending the use of non-alcoholic flavoring. Mrs. Harry Lewis will take charge of the sale of these flavings and any one can get information about them by calling her up, the phone number being 4471.

Business dispensed with, the subject of the meeting for study and discussion was "Health and Heredity" and was led by Mrs. C. M. Halderman. The literature on the subject was partly read responsively by Mrs. Halderman and Mrs. Ut and afterwards each member of the class took part in the reading. Beginning with heredity in plants, the subject led up to the health and heredity as influencing the most complex and delicately organized creation on this planet—the little child. All the ladies took part in the discussions. The meeting was an informal one and very helpful and thoroughly enjoyed. The ladies present were: Mesdames Brown, Preble, Ebel, Colgan, Lewis, Rawlings, Ut, Blew, Halderman, Wasson and McArthur. Misses Bentley and Stone. Mrs. R. B. Shanno was a guest of the union.

Coreopsis Club
Mrs. Wm. Collar was hostess Wednesday afternoon to the Coreopsis Embroidery Club. Needlework and conversation kept the ladies busy during the afternoon until the serving of the dainty collation. The club will meet again on next Wednesday with Mrs. John Howes.

Those present yesterday were Mesdames Mann, Swartz, Lambert, Hart, John Stearns, Frank Stearns, Mount, Mayer, King, Artz and the two children of Mrs. Artz; Misses Edith Stearns, Ruby and Hattie Swartz, Baby Harvey Swartz.

Ladies' Aid
The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church held their business meeting last Friday afternoon at the church. The president, Mrs. McCullough, being away from town, the vice-president, Mrs. C. P. Marshall, took the chair. The principal business before the meeting was the annual bazaar, which will be held the 10th of December in K. P. hall. The ladies have been busy for several weeks past preparing the things which are to be sold at this bazaar, many of them articles suitable for Christmas presents. A program will also be given. Mrs. Ebel, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Tingley were appointed the program committee. The ladies will have on sale at the bazaar some of their own delicious cake to be served with ice cream. A candy booth will supply all those who have a sweet tooth.

The Tustin people may look forward to this bazaar not only as an opportunity to do some of their Christmas shopping, but to spend a delightful evening as well.

Tustin Twelve
The Tustin Twelve has had another meeting. This time, in entire contrast to the last meeting when they went automobileing to the beach and sailing on the waters, the shades were drawn and the lights turned on at the cozy home of Mrs. J. C. Stearns, who was hostess Tuesday afternoon. Just the same, the serious problems of life and grave duties which must sometime be shouldered and solved, were all laid aside and the sound of laughter was heard, suggesting the joy of existence as they gathered in and settled down over their fancy work. Miss Clara Wells, a niece of the hostess, played several beautiful piano selections. Mrs. Chas. Johnson sang and was heartily encored. Following this a reading was splendidly given by Mrs. Abbott, a niece of the hostess. A song sweetly sung by Mrs. Stearns ended the program.

Golden-hued chrysanthemums were used in house and table decorations. A two-course luncheon of nut sandwiches, scalloped oysters and coffee, fruit salad and cake was served.

The members of the club present were Mesdames Artz, Fuller, Morehead, Nimmo, Poole, Pollard and

Smith, and the guests were Mrs. Geo. Wells and her two daughters, Miss Clara Wells and Mrs. Abbott of Santa Ana.

Endeavor Business Meeting
A Christian Endeavor business meeting was held last Friday night at the home of the pastor, Mr. Blew. Mr. Stannfield of El Modena, county Interstate superintendent, was present and set forth the desirability of organizing an Intermediate Endeavor society. There were about twenty young people present. Several matters of business came up before the society, after which a social time was enjoyed.

CURRENT NEWS AND COMMENT

The Lemon Rate Decision
The decision handed down by the supreme court November 3, affirming the Interstate Commerce Commission ruling on lemon freight rates from California to the Atlantic seaboard is an important one, not only a great saving in freight over the rate established by the railroads but also as releasing for distribution to the growers a large sum of money. The difference between the $11.50 rate and the $1 rate as fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission, which amount has been held in escrow pending the decision just rendered by the supreme court.

The pre-cooling case is expected to come up for argument early in December.

Citrus Fairs and Convention
The Tulare County Citrus Fair, to be held in Visalia December 11 to 20, promises to prove a success. It is to be housed in a pavilion 264x90 feet, which is now under construction.

The National Orange Show, to be held in San Bernardino next January, will enjoy the same excellent location that it did last season, arrangements having been completed for the use of the Southern Pacific at the corner of Second and E streets.

The State Fruit Growers' convention at Sacramento has been called for December 2 to 4.

Aqueduct Water
That annexation is a definite relief for obtaining Los Angeles water has now become a settled fact. It is possible that this decision may have some effect upon the development of citrus lands capable of irrigation from this source of supply, pending the time arrangements can be made for annexation to the city of Los Angeles.

New Citrus Developments
Corona: A scheme is on foot to develop the big Sobrante 15,000 acre ranch lying between Corona and Riverside, upon which there is a large acreage of fine citrus land. It is proposed to pipe water from the Warner ranch, between 3000 and 4000 inches of water being needed.

Bakersfield: The development of water by means of wells sunk on the mesa lands of the big Tejon ranch, and the assurance that the electric road from Los Angeles via Tejon canyon and Rose station to the West side oil fields, by providing water and transportation promises to open up another big tract of land for citrus culture.

San Bernardino: The proposal on the part of San Francisco capitalists to bring water from the Mojave river by means of a 20-mile tunnel under the San Bernardino mountains from near Victorville to a point near San Bernardino will not only generate an immense amount of electric power but would greatly increase the water available for irrigation in the San Bernardino and Riverside citrus belts.

Application for permission to construct the big tunnel has already been filed with the forestry department, according to Forest Supervisor R. H. Charlton of the Angeles forest reserve.

Pomona: At a recent meeting of the Pomological Club of Pomona, Professor H. G. Stearns, who has recently returned from a trip through Egypt, Palestine and Europe, stated that the Jaffa Orange of Palestine might be considered by an unprejudiced person to be even superior to that produced in this country.

This Orange is practically seedless and has for many years been considered the best Christmas fruit on the market. It is water borne from Palestine to London and improved shipping facilities recently inaugurated promise considerable expansion in its production and export. Shipments start the end of September and the end of November sees the trees cleaned and the crop marketed.

By Products
The applications on the part of citrus product manufacturers to obtain more favorable rates on orange and lemons shipped in brine to common Eastern points, from 85 cents to 65 cents per hundred pounds, means much to the citrus industry in this state, according to Secretary Walschlaeger of the Citrus Protective League, by increasing the use of cull fruit for by product manufacture. Such a reduction in freight rates would enable the coast fruit so shipped to compete with the imported.

Corona
The Corona Fruit Exchange has handled this past season a total of 387 cars of lemons and 563 cars of Oranges, receiving therefrom $1,285,000 f. o. b. the crop shipped being estimated at 75 per cent of normal, according to the secretary of the local exchange. In face of the conditions met with the past season this is a record of which Corona may well feel proud.

KANSAS CITY AIDS

HER POOR WISELY

In the board of public welfare, Kansas City has a unique institution of applied Christianity. Through the activities of this board the social conscience of the community is finding expression. It is working for that wide justice which must lie at the foundation of religion, if that religion is to be effective. Poor people constantly suffer injustice because they can not afford the expense of litigation in the courts. The board's free legal aid bureau brings justice within the reach of the most defenseless person. The poor man needs to borrow money. He can not get it at a bank. So the welfare loan agency offers him banking accommodations. The man out of work is a constant problem. The board's free employment agency and the municipal rock quarry help toward its solution. Through the parole department a personal interest is taken in the man who is temporarily down and out, through the municipal farm a chance is given the offender to straighten up. The factory inspection department sees to it that the factories observe proper regulations for health and safety. Through its investigators the board supervises housing. It undertakes to regulate commercialized recreations and amusements. It investigates cases reported in need of help. In conjunction with the board of public welfare must be mentioned the work of the juvenile court—whose first probation officer was employed at the instance of Henry Hopkins, an eminent Congregationalist—with its Boys' Hotel, the McCune Farm and the Widow's Pension Act—Kansas City Star.

AMUSEMENTS

No extra charge will be made for reserving seats, the price for the course of six numbers being $1.50. At the same time it is hoped to make some money for the building fund.

See the Illusions at Clune's
The new change of program which went into effect at Clune's Theater last evening, and will continue all the rest of the week, is one of decided merit.

The feature act in the vaudeville numbers is the great trunk illusion by Frantz Ceazer and company. You see the lady member of the company have her hands tied behind her back, step into a sack which is duly sealed and tied. She is then lifted into the trunk, which is locked at both ends and roped as an ordinary trunk would be ready to be sent on a long journey.

Then the trunk, containing the woman, is placed under a canopy when the male member of the company enters, and then—the quickest change in the world is effected. A pistol shot, the woman comes onto the stage, the trunk is brought forth, apparently in the same condition as when it was put there a second or two ago, the locks are unfastened, ropes are untied, and behold the man steps out of the trunk and sack! It is really a marvelous illusion and must be seen to be appreciated.

Woodson, the bird and beast imitator, is very clever with his voice, making animal and bird life calls and songs, also Scotch bagpipes, to perfection.

Gilbert Mack, the singer, was on again last evening with an entirely new set of songs. These choruses were thrown on the screen, so that the audience could better follow the words.

The moving pictures were again up to their usual high standard. "In the Days of Trajan" was a beautiful picture from an artistic point of view, the Roman costumes showing especially to advantage. "The Man of the Wilderness" was a good picture of love and romance. A good deal of comedy was also shown, in a picture entitled "Fritz, the Tailor." The antics of this man when he was fitted the ladies were amusing, to say the least.

NO PARTY POLITICS IN LOCAL AFFAIRS

Regardless of who started it, and of whether it meets with much or little favor, the Register is opposed to drawing party lines in county politics—whether by Progressives, Republicans or Democrats.

So far as can be learned the newspaper talk about the Progressives putting up a full ticket has little foundation in party purpose or in personal preference. Chairman Jackson and Secretary Tople of the Central Committee emphatically deny that the executive committee is considering such a course.

Certainly the Progressives should be the last to pursue such a course, for it is contrary not only to the principles and policies embodied in the new primary law (a Progressive measure), but also is out of harmony with the broad democratic spirit of Progressivism.

Aside from all this and including all parties, common sense business principles, and popular sentiment all are opposed to party politics in local affairs. That party has for years been the bane of the public service, and the party or community that has outgrown it can not claim to be either Progressive or progressive, or even politically wise in its day and generation.

THE PRESIDENT'S MEXICAN POLICY

Severe criticism has been passed upon the present national administration for what is claimed to be its lack of definite policy regarding Mexican affairs. Such criticism is wholly unfair; President Wilson seems to have a well-defined policy of non-interference, to be continued until such time as there appears to be a fair prospect of accomplishing pacification by interference.

The loudest of the critics are those representing American investment in Mexico. They demand protection for American lives and property. Just note that they always use the term, "lives and property," when in fact, the lives of Americans in Mexico have not generally, nor even frequently, been in danger. It is in reality American investments in Mexico for which they demand protection. They insist that we engage in a war for the pacification of Mexico, with its tremendous cost in lives and money, when such a war would be solely in behalf of American investors in Mexico.

Against such a policy President Wilson stands firmly, knowing that the cost would be greater than the gain.

The truth appears to be that conflicting financial interests have had a great deal to do with the turbulent conditions of Mexico. If the United States goes to war, it must be for some better purpose than merely to engage in a war in behalf of any financial interests.

President Wilson's policy of non-interference and the exerting of a moral pressure on the Mexican situation is not without result. The power of Huerta, the dictator, has been greatly weakened without sacrifice of American lives or the cost of war.

Whenever it may appear that a remedy for the present condition of Mexican affairs can only be accomplished by armed intervention, it will be time to adopt that course. Such a time has not arrived.—Anaheim Herald.

NATIONAL DIVORCE LAW IS NEEDED

Haven't we carried our defense of state rights just a little too far? Are there not some matters that could be better regulated by Federal legislation than under the present system of state law?

Take, for example, the divorce evil—for evil it is in nine cases out of ten. Each state has its own laws on marriage and divorce. A man and a woman may be legally married according to the laws of one state, and yet their marriage not be recognized under the laws of another state. A divorce may be secured in one state and should either of the parties move to another state and marry again, such marriage might be nothing but bigamy because the laws of that other state did not recognize the validity of the divorce secured.

Were the evil effects thus produced confined to the parties to the divorce, the matter would be bad enough, but the most serious result is that which affects the children of divorced couples.

Some states permit divorce for insufficient reason, and thus become plague spots. Conditions in this respect have been much improved in recent years; but no remedy will be thoroughly effective short of Federal laws governing marriage and divorce.

Pottery Imports

The pottery imported into the United States in 1912 was valued at $5,555,530, but the domestic production, according to the United States Geological Survey, was valued at $3,504,164. The exports were valued at $1,177,784. The domestic production was 81.4 per cent of the total consumption against 78.9 per cent in 1911.

WOULDN'T LOAN GOODS

In getting goods for window displays in Anaheim for the good of the temperance cause, the W. C. T. U. women were obliged to go to Santa Ana for some of the exhibits, as the Mother Colony would not accommodate.

What's the reason?

Real and Correct Figures on Progressive Gains in the East

[Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—John Purroy Mitchell of New York will say that the Progressives solely were responsible for his nomination by the fusion committee. For two years McAneny, a Democrat, had labored for the fusion nomination. The standard Republican organization solidified its forces behind District Attorney Whitman, who later, running for re-election, received the endorsement of Tammany. At the psychological moment the Progressives sprang the name of Mitchell and he was nominated by the fusion committee. It was the earnest, enthusiastic support of the Progressives which made Mitchell's election possible. The New York Mail, a Progressive newspaper, published the Sulzer revelations showing the attempts of "Boss" Murphy to compel a man elected to the governorship to turn the state over to the grafters.

Nor was the majority the only victory achieved by the Progressives in New York state. Twenty-three Progressives were elected as members of the general assembly, and twenty candidates, Republicans and Democrats, who were swept into office, enjoyed Progressive endorsement. This fusion was necessary in order to defeat either Murphy's men or Barnes' men and to wrest control of the legislature from this infamous alliance.

Turn to the states where the issues were clear-cut, where the struggle lay between the Progressives on the one hand and the two old parties on the other. Staid, conservative Massachusetts, assumed to be the very hearthstone of conservatism, is slowly but surely taking its place in the Progressive column.

Think of it! The Progressive candidate for governor actually polled more votes in 1912 than he polled in the presidential campaign of 1912.

Think of it! Both the old Democratic and Republican parties polled less votes in 1912 than they did in 1912.

Here are the figures to prove it: In 1912 the Progressive candidate polled 122,602; in 1912, 126,667; a gain of 4,065. In 1912 the Republican candidate polled 143,597; in 1912, 116,214; a loss of 27,383. In 1912 the Democratic candidate polled 193,184; in 1912, 180,368; a loss of 12,816.

In Massachusetts, as in New York, the Progressives will hold the balance of power in the assembly, and should an accident occur in the senatorial representation it will be the Progressives who will be able to name the man that shall represent the old Bay State in the United States senate.

Here are the figures in connection with the Massachusetts legislature:

SENATE		Representation
Party	1912	1912	Elec. Elec.
Progressive	6	2	2
Republican	27	20	7
Democratic	13	18	5
ASSEMBLY		Representation
Party	1912	1912	Elec. Elec.
Progressive	1	19	18
Republican	137	114	23
Democratic	94	106	12

While Everett Colby, the Progressive candidate for governor, received only 45,000 votes in New Jersey, the fact must not be lost sight of that the new party ran counter in that state to the heaviest kind of odds. Colby's vote would have been largely swollen had not many Progressives feared that Stokes, the Republican candidate, might win. Stokes sought to confuse the issue by declaring that he had always been for Roosevelt and that he was really a "progressive Republican." Both the Democrats and Republicans in New Jersey had a large campaign fund, that of the Republicans totaling a quarter of a million dollars, as opposed to a paltry fifteen thousand dollars at the disposal of the Colby committee.

The Progressives sought to defeat Stokes by polling about 40,000 votes. They succeeded. Moreover, many Progressives were elected to local offices.

Here is a partial list of the cities in which Progressives were elected mayor:

New York—Syracuse, Johnstown and Amsterdam.
New Jersey—Asbury Park, Chatham, Glen Ridge, Collingswood, Point Pleasant and Pitman.
Ohio—Canton.
Indiana—North Vernon, Richmond, Marion and Seymour.

Had it not been for the corruption of voters in Louisville, Ky., the Progressive candidate for mayor of that city would have been elected beyond question.

A golden era is opened for the Progressive party. Encouraged by the Tuesday elections Progressives will continue their struggle to achieve victory, realizing that in victory may be gained those governmental reforms which are so essential to the peaceful prosperity of all the people.

The Political Watchtower

Here it is a year, lacking two weeks, before election, and a central committee meeting is called for tomorrow to consider ways and means and other necessary incidentals. Those who enjoy politics ought to be tickled to death. It looks as though the performance was going to be very nearly twelve reels long.

S. J. Jackson and Prince L. Tople, chairman and secretary of the Republican County Central Committee, are very certain indeed that the executive committee of the central committee has never entertained bringing before that central committee meeting a proposal to get out a Progressive county ticket, top to bottom. They say that any newspaper reports that indicate that the executive committee or Jackson or Tople are back of any project to have the central committee consider getting out a county ticket as a Progressive ticket are unfair, unjust, insinuating and far from being the real condition of the minus and far from the official acts of said executive committee.

But that won't stop the central committeemen from Tomato Springs, Sequel Wash or Mission Viejo from getting up and moving that the central committee get busy on a county ticket.

Not that they are going to do anything like that. Far be it from the Watchman to say that the matter is going to be brought up at tomorrow's meeting. Indeed, every effort is being made to keep it from coming up. The executive committeemen as individuals—mind you, the Watchman does not even breathe a thought that it has ever been considered in official meeting of the executive committee—the executive committee as individuals are diametrically, positively, conclusively, yea, and forever—opposed to having it come up at all.

And the Watchman agrees—yea, and forever, also. The Progressives ought not attempt to get out a county ticket. It would be against the spirit of the law and the principles of Progressivism. If a man wants to run let him run, and in county affairs vote for the best man. That is what the new primary law means, and it is in full accord with Progressive principles.

This is going to be the last year of the central committee made up of one committeeman from each precinct. The new primary law, which does a lot of things to a lot of political methods, lays out a new system of selecting a county central committee. It puts the selection up to the people. Under the new law central committeemen are to be selected three to each supervisorial district. Nominations must be made by petition, just as nominations are made for any other office, and as many may run for central committeemen as care to do so. But only three from each supervisorial district will be elected. That means that the next central committee of each party will be composed of fifteen men or women or men and women. And don't forget that there will probably be some women.

Outside of campaign times when a central committee manages the campaigns of all those connected with its party, what is a central committee for?

Well, now, don't get inquisitive. You ought to know that its sole duty in life during periods between campaigns is merely to recommend.

See what the Democratic County Central Committee began doing here nearly a year ago, soon after it became known that Woodrow Wilson was going to be President. It began recommending. It recommended Ahlborn of Anaheim for a postoffice job. Ahlborn hasn't got the job yet, he may. At any rate he is recommended, and that is a great comfort in time of storm.

The central committee of the Democracy of Orange county recommended Charlie Overshiner for the postal position at Santa Ana, James Fullerton for that at Orange, and De Lapp for the Huntington Beach job.

It recommended Ben Tarver for deputy United States district attorney and Grumm of Orange for some kind of a job in the diplomatic service—not particular where, just anywhere.

So far all of those recommendations are still recommendations. Hope lies in William Kettner, congressman. He was here this week and he will be back in another week or so. His first great task is to settle Anaheim's postoffice fight. Recommendation or no recommendation, the central committee is not dead certain that Ahlborn is going to come out ahead. Mr. Ahlborn wants to know, Mr. Kettner, what a central committee is for outside of campaign times.

The Watchman turned his field glasses on the courthouse. He was trying to spy out one single official who is not a candidate for re-election. He looked the courthouse over from the top floor, where the sheriff, district attorney, superintendent of schools and one judge hold forth, down to the basement, where the county surveyor and the justice of the peace hang out.

And here is the result. Not a single official was found who can be counted out of the race. The watchman is informed that they are all candidates right now.

Some of them will be re-elected without any opposition to speak of, and some of them already know what kind of a fight they are up against.

Supervisor H. E. Smith of Santa Ana and Supervisor William Schunacher of Buena Park, sit back and smile. They are hold-overs.

Out in the fifth district there is a great crop of probable candidates for supervisor. There is talk of George Jeffrey, bean grower of Myford, getting into the race, and Lawrence Wakeham, well known rancher of Old Newport, and Al. Cotant of Tustin.

A radical change has been made in the boundaries of the fifth district since the last election. The Fourth ward of Santa Ana has been taken from that district and put into the first. Tustin always did have a tremendous swing when it came to electing a supervisor in the fifth. With the Fourth ward's big vote out of the way, Tustin's whip hand is strengthened. Let no man start out to be honored with election as supervisor of the fifth district without first figuring out carefully just what Tustin is going to do to his aspirations.

Speaking of a present county officials being candidates for re-election, the Watchman heard two of them highly recommended recently. It was at a meeting—no matter what it was at a meeting—attended by three kind of a meeting—attended by three bankers, three newspaper men, one of whom was from out of town, one building contractor, one transfer man, one merchant, two lawyers, two retired capitalists and possibly one or two others. The question of non-partisanship in city and county affairs was under discussion. Speaking in favor of it, one of the lawyers who decidedly is not a democrat, said:

"Take our assessor, for instance. Being a Democrat doesn't prevent him from being the best assessor this county has ever had. And one of the bankers, also not a Democrat, chimed in, 'That's right!' And there were noddings of heads all about the room.

Then the lawyer went on: "And there's our sheriff—a splendid officer and a fine man—the first Republican sheriff the county has ever had. If party lines are not drawn he'll get lots of Democratic votes, just as Sleeper will get lots of Republican votes." And again the heads all nodded.

Now the Watchman holds no brief for either Sleeper or Mr. Rudock, but he concurs in the remarks of the lawyer and banker and in the noddings of the others.

And yet, if the Watchman should hear something good said of any of the other candidates who may contest with Mr. Sleeper or Mr. Rudock for the suffrage of the people, he'll print it with pleasure.

ATHENA CLUB MEETING

High School Organization Put
New Leaders in Office—
Program Was Given

The Athena Club held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in the music room of the high school. The club was called to order by last year's president, Louise Grubb, and the officers of this semester were installed. They are as follows: President, Isabel Anderson; vice-president, Callene Finley; secretary, Helen Reinhaus; treasurer, Doris Welles. Executive committee: Margaret Roy, chairman; Arvilla Ball, Greela Scott, Elizabeth Givens.

An interesting program was then given, as follows: Selection, Girls Glee Club; reading, Laura Davis; impersonation, Helen Roberts; Euklele Trio, Ruth Visel, Elsie Lutz and Lina Yarnell; pantomime, Estelle Nelson.

All of the numbers were greatly enjoyed and as most of them were class work the club obtained a good idea of some of the branches of study taken up this year.

After the program the girls were invited to the hall where refreshments were served, and by the way they headed for the door it was evident that no second invitation was needed.

PRETTY LUNCHEON

Mrs. C. S. Kendall Entertained
With Delightful Affair Yesterday Afternoon

One of the pleasant social affairs of the week was the 1 o'clock luncheon and afternoon given yesterday by Mrs. Charles S. Kendall at her home on Cypress avenue. Variety merigolds and roses added to the cheerfulness of the Kendall parlors, where the ladies were received by their hostess.

A lavender color scheme prevailed in the luncheon, a handsome brass basket in the center of the table being filled with dainty lavender tinted blossoms, and the same pretty shade being seen in the mints and delicious sherbet of the four course repast.

Covers were laid for the hostess, Mrs. J. W. Bishop, Mrs. W. E. Winslow, Mrs. J. J. Carden, Mrs. J. I. Clark, Mrs. L. A. Collier, Mrs. J. W. Van Cleave, Mrs. Anna Vandermast, Mrs. W. M. Smart, Mrs. E. L. Morrison, Mrs. H. C. Daves, Mrs. W. A. Zimmerman.

The afternoon was spent enjoyably with a clever diversion planned by Mrs. Kendall. Each lady was given a booklet, the pages of which were blank except for the name of one of the guests, whose life history was to be told by the one receiving the book, using illustrations from magazines furnished by the hostess.

Life features such as "Her Birthplace," "Her First Birthday," "Her First Accident," "Her First Sweetheart," were indicated by headlines, under which appropriate pictures were to be pasted. The illustrator, if such the one selecting the pictures and pasting them in might be called, autographed the booklet when completed, and the lady whose history had been told received the book as a souvenir of the occasion.

Met at Garden Grove
Mrs. Reicks of Garden Grove was the hostess yesterday afternoon to the Women's Committee. Autumn decorations marked the event, many Santa Ana women being present.

The program had been carefully prepared and proved to be of much interest to all present. Mrs. Reicks presided, and Mrs. Frank J. Barnes rendered a well played piano solo.

The roll was then called, the ladies responding to the question: "Will Socialism Solve the Liquor Problem?" This interesting part of the program was followed by a pretty vocal solo pleasantly rendered by Mrs. J. Millbank.

Miss Marion L. Israel, state secretary of the Women's Committee, was present and gave in her usual quiet and instructive manner a very interesting and instructive lecture on "Politics and Potatoes." She dealt chiefly with the part politics plays in the high cost of living, touching briefly and impressively on poisoned and adulterated foods, stating clearly that to remedy these conditions food must be made for use and not for profit.

C. H. Wilson then gave a synopsis of the play, "From Dusk to Dawn," which was much appreciated.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. Ansen at Garden Grove, on the second Thursday in December. The subject for discussion will be "Woman and Labor."

Ebbel Book Review Section
On Tuesday evening last, a large portion of the members of the newly organized Book Review Section of the Ebell Club gathered around the cheerful grate fire at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tedford and listened to an able review of Winston Churchill's last book, entitled "The Inside of the Cup," conducted by Prof. E. M. Nealley.

In prefatory remarks to his review Prof. Nealley said that since ten thousand new books were being produced in the United States each year, some seventy-five thousand yearly in the world, or an average of twenty-six books every day, there was ample work ahead of the assembled section.

The larger portion of the publications are novels, divided into character novels, problem novels and dime novels, and in amplifying his definition of "dime novel" the reviewer said there was many a dime novel that cost $1.50; he further said that there was an increasing demand for works dealing with religious questions, as did the work being considered, and compared "The Inside of the Cup" with "The Calling of Dan Matthews" and "Robert Elsmere" preceding it, which dealt with similar situations, and to which two books he considered it superior.

A brief sketch was given of Winston Churchill, the distinguished author, who is a Progressive and who ran for Governor of New Hampshire; and a list of his works mentioned whose titles all contain the letter C, a letter reckoned peculiarly fortunate by the author.

The epitomized story of "The Inside of the Cup" was given together with numerous extracts from which it was concluded that the aim of the book was to suggest to the church of today that it could be most helpful to the people at large by putting the emphasis on life rather than doctrine, upon consideration of how to live rather than preparation for death, upon the practicability of the brotherhood of man and the principles of the Sermon on the Mount in business and politics, and the betterment of industrial conditions.

The book further suggests that for the church to be more efficient its members (especially in the city where the scene is laid) must be born again into a keener sense of responsibility, and that the future of the church lies in a succession of worthy personalities like Jesus Christ, Luther, etc., rather than in the perpetuation of ancient creeds.

After some discussion of the book a committee was appointed, who later announced that at the December meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Ella I. Fyfe, French street, the book to be reviewed would be "The Amateur Gentleman" by Jeffrey Far- nold, and the reviewer, Albert J. Perkins.

At the February meeting Mrs. H. G. Hull will consider "American Drama" as illustrated by some recent production to be chosen later.

If members will kindly note the books above mentioned and prepare for the respective meetings accordingly, it will add greatly to the interest of each occasion.

Another Successful Meeting

The members of the McKinley Parent-Teacher's Association met for the regular November meeting, on Thursday afternoon, in the Kindergarten building of that school. The meeting was called to order at 3:15 with the president, Mrs. Carrie Bent, presiding.

After an animated business session, during which time many important matters were disposed of, Mrs. Whitney, of the Intermediate School, read a most interesting paper on the subject of "Character Building." This was certainly very good, and no one present but what felt much benefited by having heard so valuable expressions. Then followed a round table discussion on the same subject, and this brought out some excellent additional thoughts from the mothers.

Next followed a piano duet by Mrs. Moessner and Mrs. Paul and was much enjoyed and this was followed by a reading by Miss Dorothy Pitt, entitled "Tommy's Prayer," and was delivered in a sweetly pathetic manner. The last number on the program was a vocal solo by Miss Amy Bent, "God Make Me Thine," accompanied by Miss Tillotson.

Then adjournment was taken for the social hour, during which all new members were made to feel perfectly "at home" and refreshments of delicious coffee, wafers, and pickles were served. The committee in charge of the refreshments for this meeting were Mrs. Culver, Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Heard, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Carnack.

The next meeting of this association will be held at the same place and hour on Thursday, December 11, 1913.

Surprised Their Pastor

Rev. Mr. Kleinlein, 603 Van Ness avenue, was happily surprised last night by the visit of a large number of the parishioners of Lutheran St. Peter's Congregation, who had discovered that their pastor's birthday occurred yesterday. There were friends present from Pasadena, Orange and Clearwater.

Pleasant speeches of esteem for the pastor were made and two handsome rocking chairs were presented, with many good wishes to Rev. Kleinlein for happy returns of his natal day.

All present will long remember the happy occasion.

Had Parliamentary Practice

The Ebell Parliamentary Section had an excellently attended meeting yesterday at the home of the leader, Mrs. W. L. Grubb. The section met as a mass meeting to discuss the peace movement, organized in convention with temporary officers, later organizing permanently with permanent officers. This was all done for practice. At the next meeting a report from the ways and means committee will be heard.

TWO WARRANTS WORTHLESS CHECKS

Two Garden Grove Boys in Trouble Over a Piece of Paper

NO FUNDS THERE TO MEET $500 CHECK

V. J. Atencio Said to Have Drawn it to Pay for Horses He Bought

This morning Justice Cox issued two warrants, one on a no-fund check and the other for forgery.

Two Garden Grove young men are the defendants in the forgery case. They are Eustice Summerville and James Delaney. They were arrested at Long Beach, and today an officer went for them.

The check was cashed by F. H. Cloyes, cashier of the Garden Grove Bank. It was drawn in the Farmers & Merchants National of Santa Ana in favor of W. C. Bennett, signed Nate Dundson. The amount was $56.90. The no-fund check warrant is for A. J. Atencio. Atencio owed Thayer, Hickey & Thompson $500 on a horse deal. He tried to square the old debt by giving a check, which was returned by the California National of Santa Ana as not having sufficient funds to meet it. The check was dated Oct. 24.

For Desertion Deputy Sheriff Dean arrested Frank Branch last night for Los Angeles officers who wanted him on a charge of failing to provide for a minor child. Branch has been at work on a pile-driver near Talbert.

STRAIGHTENS OUT TANGLES

At Last County Secures Deeds from Santa Fe for Rights-of-Way

Large bodies move slowly. Perhaps that is the reason it took the Santa Fe railroad ten months to give a deed to Orange county for roadway that the county has been using for years.

When the good roads work was started, the first thing tackled was right-of-way. That proved to be a tremendous task. Attorney Walter Egan and the other officials who have had the work in hand found that the road south of Olive runs through land that along in 1887 was dedicated to the Santa Fe as depot grounds for the town of St. James. St. James is a mere memory to the old-timers who were here in boom days. The county has used the road but the Santa Fe owned it. The same condition existed up at Northam, where depot grounds had been reserved.

Enough letters have been written concerning these two rights-of-way to fill a volume. The Santa Fe stenographer who first heard of it seems to have referred it to the assistant to a sub-secretary, who referred it to the sub-secretary, who referred it to the secretary, who referred it to the assistant, who referred it to the assistant, who referred it to somebody else. That is about the way the thing got along. It took ten months for the deeds to arrive. But they arrived today, and the county officials feel somewhat relieved. It took an awful lot of work to get title to do something that to all uses has belonged to the county. The county does not want to build good roads on some man's land, because that man might want his land for a pigpen, warehouse or an oil well.

Wants to Cut Them C. B. Johnson of Whittier, who owns an orange orchard on the Red Hill road near Tustin, has asked the supervisors for permission to cut out eucalyptus trees along his east line. He states that eucalyptus trees between the eucalyptus are large enough to furnish a windbreak and are ornamental, and that the eucalyptus trees are damaging the first row of oranges.

Is Set For Trial This morning Judge West set the first of the registration cases for Dec. 15. Denunciations were argued in the second and third cases and were taken under advisement. These are the cases that grew out of the anti-slavery movement at Anaheim.

FOR CANNERY AND A SCHOOL

Stanton Citizens Name Two Committees to Look the Ground Over

Last night about thirty citizens of Stanton held a meeting to talk over the establishment of a new schoolhouse and the establishment of a cannery.

At present the townsite is a mile and a half from a school. The general sentiment of those present was that what they would like to see would be the establishment of a union district, made up of Savanna, Magnolia and Los Alamitos districts, and build a good building at Stanton. The next best proposal was to move the Savanna schoolhouse to Stanton. What the rest of the people would think of the propositions was the problem, and a committee of five was appointed to see what the people of the three districts will permit.

It was declared that Stanton needs a cannery, and a committee was appointed to see what can be done to encourage the establishment of one.

"Madame Sherry" For Matinee and Evening

Along the route of the "Madame Sherry," tour comes advance word that the sparkling musical show is repeating its immense business and flattering patronage so consistently manifested on its last trip.

"Sherry" is essentially a diversion for the "tired business man." There are no strained moments, no tense situations. The lines and lyrics were written purely for fun, and Karl Hoschna carried out the idea of the librettist, O. A. Hauerbach, to a most unforgettably successful finish.

In case you missed the production during the spring of 1912, it might be well to explain that the plot of the comedy starts within the palatial residence of Theophilus Sherry, swims to the solon of his private yacht, and winds up to a gorgeous moonlight setting on the quarter.

Birch Park, leader, "Tom" Tsuchiyama, of Japan.

THE SIMPLE LIFE IS THE SOLUTION

So Says Dr. Gladden, Speaking of Problem of the High Cost of Living

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—"Lead simpler lives." That is one of the solutions offered for today's great social problem by Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden, world famous preacher and close student of social and economic aspects of American life, Rev. Dr. Gladden knows life—not the easy, luxurious life of the well-to-do and successful, but the everyday life of the pick-and-shovel man. He's rich. "It is a common conception that the present discontent and widespread social unrest is due to labor difficulties—agitation of labor organizers and so-called muckrakers," said Rev. Gladden. "But they are not. High prices at present are due to having so large a part of the laboring class engaged in the manufacture of luxuries—in purveying to pleasure. Useful work is needed, but there is no one to do it. As for instance, a man spends $5000 for a motor car. He is putting the money into circulation to be sure, but the motor in turn isn't producing anything. Let him invest in a model tenement or farm with low rents. Morbid conditions that prevail among the masses cannot improve themselves under the present economic regime. So it is our business to look into the present discontent and do what we can to allay it."

ANNOUNCEMENT

—Dr. J. W. Shaul will be in his Los Angeles office forenoon; Santa Ana office, 2 to 5 p. m., and by appointment.

Former Governor Patterson of Tennessee Takes Strong
Stand Against Evil

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 12.—The principal speaker at today's session of the National Anti-Saloon convention, which was termed Governor's day, was former Governor Malcolm R. Patterson of Tennessee. There were nine governors in attendance, and addresses were given by Governors Hanna of North Dakota and Hedge of Kansas. Former Governor Patterson said in part:

"The Anti-Saloon League and I have not always been friends. The paths we traveled were wide apart. But they have met, and we now find ourselves in the same road, actuated by the same desire to destroy the traffic in liquor.

"I am aware that to have suddenly changed the views of mature manhood which I once asserted and proclaimed from one end of Tennessee to the other has excited surprise and provoked comment. I am neither ashamed nor abashed to stand before this audience and acknowledge the wrong."

Commenting on one of his messages to the Tennessee legislature in which he opposed further legislation to regulate the liquor traffic, Mr. Patterson reiterated that at that time those were his honest convictions, based on a misguided judgment. He continued:

"I have seen the trail of liquor in the criminal courts. I know and have been a participant in its paralyzing and corroding influence on the social and public life of our national capital. "I have seen it drag down many of the associates of my boyhood. I have seen its forked lightning strike my first-born—the child of my young manhood. At last I have felt its foul and stealthy blow as it turned on me in its deadly and shaming wrath—on me, who had pleaded before the people for its very existence.

"When logic failed and reason gave no answer, I cast aside all pride of opinion, all thought of what the world might say on think and went to the throne of Almighty God. There on bended knees I asked for light and strength, and they came. I arose a changed man.

"I favor prohibition in any form that will either reduce or destroy the liquor traffic. I favor it personal, wide, town-wide, state-wide, nation-wide and world-wide."

Seal Beach No Undertow — Bay City —

Ask your neighbors what they think of Seal Beach. Over 200 of your neighbors visited Seal Beach last week and all were interested.

There Are Reasons

First. It is only 45 minutes' car ride from Santa Ana.

Second. The new Orange County Boulevard will run through Seal Beach direct to Santa Ana.

Third. You have seen Long Beach grow. We are only four miles from Long Beach, connected by direct car line across the new trestle which was just completed over Alamitos Bay.

We have two car lines to Los Angeles, which gives us the best car service. We have two great still water bays, which gives us the best boating. We have a mile of perfect beach and a surf without an undertow, which gives us the best bathing on the Pacific coast.

The new twin pavilion and bath house give us the best amusement place.

230 MEN WORK ON THE DITCH

Santa Ana Valley Irrigation
Company Laying Pipe

Work Rushed While West End
Supplied by Special Conduit

Orange News: Progressing at the rate of about 340 feet a day, a large crew of men are at work on the S. A. V. I. main irrigation ditch near Collins avenue. Under the immense amount of energy being directed against it, the big pipe line is rapidly crawling down Cambridge street, a smaller replica of the great Owens river viaduct.

Superintendent W. A. Ralph of the S. A. V. I., has about 230 men and six or eight teams on the job. The men are divided into six gangs, each with its own foreman and each carrying on some different phase of the work. Mexican labor is chiefly employed.

When completed the pipe line will be a solid concrete tube, extending from Olive to a point just below Chapman avenue, a distance of 3 1/2 miles. Of this distance, 2 1/2 miles have been completed for several years and the company is now working on the final 1 1/2 miles.

The pipe measures approximately 5 feet in outside dimensions. It is built into the ground, the top being somewhat lower than the bottom of the old ditch and will be entirely covered with dirt, a fact that will doubtless please those ranchers over whose property the ditch passes, as the ground can be worked over it.

The building of the pipe line is a complicated operation, but owing to the systematic methods used, no difficulty is being experienced. Each gang of men has its allotted task and they work like a clock, one gang following the other from those who "line out" the excavating work to be done to the last set of men which remove the wooden forms from the completed pipe. One of the last operations is the washing out of the interior of the concrete pipe with pure cement.

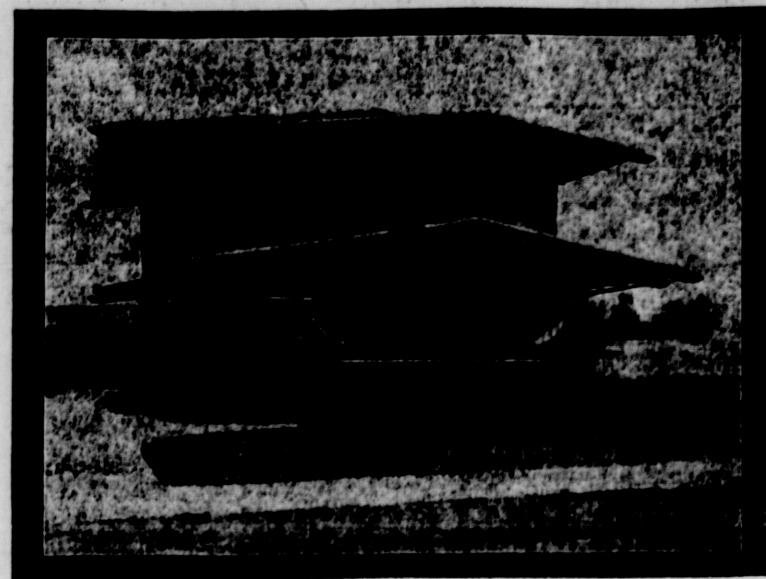

Mrs. Always-tired—"I do nothing but slave from morning till night. There's no chance for me to rest, even at meals or in bed—for I'm always worrying about the work that's ahead of me."

Anty Drudge—"Well, maybe I used to be that way, but since I use Fels-Naptha Soap for all my work, I've forgotten that I was ever tired."

Stop being a slave! Every woman wants some time for rest or pleasure. Make your life pleasant by making your work easy. You can do this if you use Fels-Naptha Soap.

to assure the right kind of a surface. The mixing of the concrete is closely watched also, and its quality is thus known to be high class and uniform as well. A carload of cement is used every other day, which means an average of about half a carload to every 340 feet of pipe line. Not satisfied, however, with the quality of the concrete, the company is reinforcing its pipe line with half-inch twisted cables, placed at intervals of twenty-five feet. While the work is being done rapidly, it is also being done well. When finished, the irrigation company should have a canal capable of meeting all requirements.

While the water is shut out of the big ditch and until the new pipe line is placed in use, the company has found it necessary to carry the water from an upper ditch through flumes placed over the old ditch to the territory on the west side. In all but a few instances it was possible to accomplish this, so that the irrigation system is practically in full working order.

CHANGE OLD WINERY
TO PACKING HOUSE
Meat Instead of Wine Will Be
Product of Old-Time
Business House

The fact that an old brick winery that was situated just outside of Orange county on the north, has been remodeled and turned into an up-to-date meat packing plant, plainly shows that the old-fashioned winery is a thing of the past.

The first pig carcass to go through the big plant, known as the Puente Rancho Packing Company, was swung up to the carrier this week. Manager Willcott stated that the plant is equipped to butcher 200 hogs a day.

This plant is situated on the old Temple ranch, and back of the old homestead where the Temples, the original pioneers of the country, first settled. The building where the packing will be done has been remodeled from the brick winery that was one of the big businesses of the olden days.

Near the butchering plant is another, where the company is busy putting up tomatoes as rapidly as the vegetable can be obtained from the surrounding country. Another feature in connection with this plant is that German sauerkraut will be made later in the season. There have been 15,000 cabbage plants set out on the ranch, and aside from this acreage the manager intends to buy from other sources. The plan is to preserve all kinds of vegetables, such as beets, pumpkins, squash and beans.

ADVANCEMENT IN P. E. TRACT MARKED

The P. E. tract seems to have taken on a new lease of life. The last few weeks have seen quite an activity in that section. It is one of the finest sections of the city and as they now have sewers, gas and electricity as well as the cars running through the tract there is no reason why this will not make rapid growth in the near future.

The last week has seen the starting of two new houses. One by Mr. Tidball at the corner of Fourth and Pacific avenue, and one by Mr. Bryan at the corner of Fifth and Artesia streets.

There is already a petition before the board for the paving of Fifth street through the tract and as Fifth street is the main road that connects with the county improved roads from the western part of the county there will soon be a larger traffic through this section.

HARVESTED IN SUN- SHINE, SHIPPED TO LAND OF FREEZES

About 2,000 Acres of Celery
Now Grown in Bountiful
County

Within two weeks Orange county will begin shipping celery to the frozen East. The product harvested in sunshine and by men working in shirt-sleeves will be eaten by people whose houses are banked with snow. Celery is one of the county's most famous products. There is a romance about the industry that seemed to appeal to people, and although the product never brought the county more than $500,000 to $600,000 a year in its best days, the industry was so well exploited that a good many people who do not know Orange county think that a goodly portion of its rich lowlands are devoted to growing celery.

As a matter of fact the celery crop these days that brings in $300,000 is unusually good. To a large measure the sugar beet industry has driven the celery business down to an acreage of 2,000, and if the last two or three years are to be taken as criterion, that acreage will be the normal acreage for celery in this county henceforth.

Celery is a crop that some years brings in big money. One reason why it is not as popular as it used to be is that a rancher can contract his land out to grow sugar beets, and, knowing what his land will do, he knows very close to what he is going to get for his crop. The sugar factories are back of him. His market is made before he plants.

The stable sugar beet crop thus scores an advantage over the less reliable celery crop.

This year's celery outlook is good, and the growers believe that they will make good money. There has been quite a little celery in the local markets, but the shipments east will not be a steady thing until the last of this month. Shipments will continue until March.

SEVEN HUNDRED TONS PER DAY

Average of Anaheim Sugar
Factory—Campaign Closes
November 15

The Anaheim Sugar Company will close its campaign about the middle of this month, this being the third successful campaign that the factory has completed. By November 15 the local factory will have run a continuous grind night and day for 100 days.

The first beets of the season were sliced on August 5, and since that time the big mill has sliced an average of 700 tons of beets every 24 hours. By the end of the run it will have ground up around 70,000 tons of sugar beets, resulting in 20,000,000 pounds of granulated sugar.

FIFTY PER CENT GAIN IN A YEAR

Twelve-Acre Orchard Three-
Year-Old Valencias Brings
Large Profit in Year

Orange groves around Anaheim are proving to be a good investment and sales are being made at advancing prices.

The other day H. O. Henderson sold his 12-acre orchard, northeast of this city, to B. F. Clouser of Los Angeles. Mr. Henderson purchased the property about a year ago and sold at such a price as to net over 50 per cent on the investment.

The ranch is set to three-year-old Valencias.
$12,500 Profit in Three Years
Thomas Drips has sold his 10-acre orange grove in Placentia to a newcomer, for $20,000. Mr. Drips bought this grove three years ago for $7500, and turns it at a neat profit.

FARM AND GARDEN BOOSTED IN SCHOOL

Los Angeles School Children to be Organized Into "City Garden Soldiers"

Los Angeles Tribune: To intensify the importance of farming and at the same time to arouse in it public interest, an organization of the city's school children, known as the City Garden Soldiers is in process of formation by Clayton F. Palmer, supervisor of agriculture in the schools, and Frank Petrel.

More than 2000 youngsters entered their names as members and it is probable that before the campaign is over the list will have numbered 40,000.

"We Conquer the Earth," Slogan
"We conquer the earth," is the motto of the organization, and its enlistment pledge is "I promise to conquer a portion of the earth and to train it to grow things good to eat or beautiful to the eye."

The object of the children will be to put into practice in vacant lots and rear yards the lessons in agriculture they have been taught in the class room. The youngsters will work in groups of five, each captained. Each child is to cultivate about 400 square feet of earth, and prizes will be awarded for the best individual and the best company work.

An auxiliary body of adults, composed of the children's parents, also is being solicited. They are asked to assist the children in their work and promote interest in it by holding annual garden

NORTHERN COUNTRIES TO TRY "TRIAL DIVORCES"

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 14.—To bring divorce within the reach of the poor and to place women on an equality with men in the marriage relation are the principal objects of a new marriage bill today submitted by the United Parliamentary Committees of Sweden, Norway and Denmark, to the respective parliaments.

The measure provides for a sort of "trial divorce." Each divorce must be preceded by a period of legal separation. Various conditions are laid down whereby it will be found convenient and expeditious for candidates for matrimony to provide themselves with medical certificates. Minors may not marry without the under 18 years of age may marry. The bill abolishes the King's prerogative in granting divorce, and there are several clauses aimed at the improvement of conditions of illegitimate and adopted children.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Los Angeles is enjoying its first taste of Pelee stocked with high grade nuts of this variety, but difficult of access, having a shell harder than the old Eastern butternut and a meat that has a very similar flavor, although not nearly as large. The shell in appearance resembles the peach, being of a mahogany red, oval and often very pointed at the ends. There are no cells within the shell, just one kernel. The origin of the nuts is said to be the West Indies, originals having been secured from the island of Martinique, where Mr. Pelee has in recent years become a very active volcano. The nuts shipped to this city arrived from Brazil by the way of New Orleans. They are holding at 12 to 15 cents a pound. The demand for nuts is good, and even walnuts, despite the high price prevailing, are selling well. The market is well stocked with high-grade nuts of this variety, but first-class are scarce. Almonds from the north are plentiful and Texas is shipping in pecans of fine quality. New crop coconuts are coming from the South Sea Islands and are selling from 50 cents to $1 per dozen.

The egg market was unchanged yesterday and there were no heavy sales. Receipts were only 105 cases. In contradistinction to the firm market on eggs is the declining market on butter. The price of creamery extra dropped to 32 cents a pound.

Why Apples Are High

Because frost and heat in many eastern states destroyed the crop.

Because we are actually falling behind in the production of apples while the demand is increasing.

Because there are only a few places in the whole United States where apple growing is made a real business.

Because so much of the fruit produced is poor, wormy stuff, not fit or profitable for marketing.

That is why those favored sections where sound, high class fruit is produced are attracting the attention of investors.

All Oak Glen and Yucalpa apples (over two hundred carloads), being fruit of the highest quality, was bought by Rivers Bros., of Los Angeles, and has been put in cold storage.

It will not be placed on sale till about February 1, and the price will likely be high, for such fruit is scarce.

Fruit grown on the young trees this year at Yucalpa sell for $3.00 per box, equal to $10 per barrel.

You only need to see what is taking place at Yucalpa to be convinced that it is even better than the high claims we make for it.

Go with us to see it. Phone 970W Home 3744.

PRESIDENT WILSON IS FOE TO PUBLIC TALKS AND FORMALITY

Occasionally Enjoys Exchange of Wits From Rear-end Platforms, and Adores College Atmosphere

By Burton K. Standish

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Up to the present time President Wilson hasn't learned to enjoy addressing crowds. Which, in these days of presidential travel and insistent inhabitants, is somewhat amazing. President Wilson, if he followed absolutely his own wishes and desires in the matter—which he doesn't—would very rarely, if ever, give rear-platform talks or make campaign speeches. What he'd like to do, would be to tackle his job of being President, and with the exception of a game of golf now and then, let nothing else interfere or draw him away from his desk. He would prefer to be, as some local newspaper wag here said some days ago, a "conventional President," and let his work and results do the talking to the crowd for him.

President Wilson actually quivers when delighted constituency in overalls and coal dust, leers up at him and cries out, "What ho, Woody Old Scout," or "Hooryay for Woody." He's ready and willing always to shake hands, particularly with the ladies, for the President probably is the greatest example of courtesy extant today, and many times the chief executive has sent shivers of apprehension crawling coldly up and down the spines of the secret service guards who accompany him on all trips, by insisting on leaving the platform to wade into a crowd to shake executive or any great man mingle with the rest of the world. One example of this occurred on the recent trip to Washington from Mobile. At Salisbury, N. C. there was a great crowd waiting for a speech. The President had ordered the train to stop but a minute so he could avoid making it. A man clambered up the brass rail of the observation car and cried out:

"Come on out, Mr. President, and show yourself, anyhow. We want to look at you." The President, grinning, stepped to the doorway of his car.

"I'm not much to look at," he said. "Well, anyhow, you look darn good to me," yelled the man waving his hat. "That's why I voted for you, and I'm going to do it again, when I have a chance." On the same trip at Evinston, Va., a way station where the President had the train halted so he could take a little constitutional, some women grabbed him hysterically by the arm.

"Oh, Mr. President," cried one, "give us a flower," pointing to one of the floral displays with which his enthusiastic admirers had showered him all along the line of route. The President directed that the whole affair, a most elaborate basket of yellow chrysanthemums and roses, be divided among the women. One of them got the whole affair and started off as fast as she could go. The others got her on the ten yard stretch and there was a mad scramble.

"Mr. President," cried a girl, grabbing him as he was ascending to his car, and pulling him clear off the steps. "You said divide—now didn't you—didn't you?" and she literally hugged the chief executive.

"Yes, I did," said the President, flushing and dashing for his car. When the train pulled out Evinston was in the throes of a feud as to which of its feminine inhabitants was to have the basket.

At college and in college atmospheres, however, the President loses his ordinary austerity and actually beams. At Princeton where he went to cast his vote in the primaries, he wandered about the college, acting as guide to the party and explaining the buildings and the treasures in a loving sort of way. He dragged his foot as he went toward his train and remained on his car platform as long as he could see the college buildings. At Swarthmore College, where he went to deliver an address, he warned his hearers that he would have a hard time keeping away from a regular lecture on discipline and behavior, and then launched into a discourse on those very subjects. After it was through, though it was dark and very damp, he insisted on strolling about the campus, talking over college matters with the president of the college, Dr. Swain.

He isn't very fond of having delegations greet him when he is on a train. The formality tires him. All formality does, he has abolished uniforms on his aides; he carries with him only a stenographer to take his speeches; he never writes out a speech beforehand. He rarely ever divulges what he is going to talk about.
